Indoor Garden Design

BBC Broadcast Centre, London

Indoor Garden Design was asked to provide interior landscaping at BBC Media Village in White City, London. A simple but extremely effective contemporary planting scheme with an organic feel was proposed for the three adjoining atria.

Each Atrium is themed 'Work', 'Rest' and 'Play'. The first is planted with Cacti and Sansevieria en masse; the next with Peperomia and third with Grasses. All plants are planted in bespoke trolleys made of galvanised steel, with wheels to give flexibility in creating different designs and layouts in the creative media building.
